

Episerver discontinued services and products

General support

Episerver Support provides general product support for eligible customers and partners, as well as operational support for solutions within the cloud-based Episerver Customer-Centric Digital Experience Platform Service offering, and other solutions managed by Episerver.

Application support

Assistance support

Episerver Support provides assistance support for product and services that are End of Service Life (EoSL). Even if your solution is including a product or service that is EoSL, Episerver will still honor assistance for requests that fall outside of EoSL and Extended Security Upgrades (ESU)

Service and product lifecycles

Episerver does not provide application support for products and services that are EoSL. These are defined with a sunset date. In table below you find Episerver products and versions that have gone EOS or when their planned sunset date is. Episerver may provide ESU against additional fees for a defined period of three (3) years past the sunset date if defined below. ESU must be ordered separately and against additional fees outside of M&S fees.

Definitions

Term	Definition
End of Sale (EoS)	The End-of-Sale (EoS) date is the last day to order the service or product through the Episerver's point-of-sale mechanisms. After this date, the product is no longer for sale. For a period after the EoS date is announced, Episerver may provide continued support for software. EoS may be defined to SKU level to ensure clarity on exactly what product that becomes EoS.
End of Service Life (EoSL)	Refers to the date that software version or service version is no longer serviced via upgrades, patches, and overall maintenance. If your solution is running a Software or Software Service and you have not purchased Extended Security Updates, the solution will no longer receive any types of updates, patches or overall maintenance including security updates. Products that are defined as EoSL are also EoS even if not listed in a separate EoS table below.
Extended Security Update (ESU)	Refers to that Episerver can include security updates for critical and important issues as defined by Episerver for a maximum of three (3) years after EoSL has been named for a Software or a Software Service. ESU comes with additional fees and needs to be defined in a separate order agreed by both Episerver and customer of Episerver. If your solution is running a Software or Software Service and you have not purchased Extended Security Updates, the solution will no longer receive security updates.
